

Sinclair Broadcasting is violating the public trust in using the free air waves for obviously partisan purposes as it plans to air the film "Stolen Honor." Such blatant pressure and control of a vast number of stations is a serious undercutting of our democratic way of life. When our country is in need of understanding and the appreciation of diversity, those who use the air waves are called to serve the interests of all the people, and work for building up, not tearing down the fabric that unites us.

I call upon the FCC to be diligent in overseeing this public trust and showing responsible leadership in dealing with the corporations which have more of a vested interest in making America strong, than to enlarge their profits. I believe media ownership rules need to be strengthened and the process of licensing be a meaningful affirmation of fairness. Thank you
